

I wanted to say thank you for allowing my son to attend your camp. You were right it was a great experience and your talk at the beginning really set the tone for the weekend. In my opinion what really set this camp apart was how much he learned in three days.

I want to thank you for holding the Stanford All Star Baseball Camp this past weekend. It was a phenomenal experience where I learned a great deal from the coaches that were providing instruction. In addition, I enjoyed competing with players from around the country.

This was truly a great event that will be influential in my scholastic and athletic career.

I must say you, and the Stanford Camp, lived up to expectations. Actually beyond expectations. I had heard as much about you as I did the camp itself and took the risk to make the trip from NC to Palo Alto to see what all the hype was about? Thank you for a terrific camp and for imparting a wealth of knowledge and opportunities to my camper. Son was in awe of Stanford. Loved it. Never seen him so taken with anything before. Before we left he actually asked that we drive the main drive again so he could take a picture of the entrance???????? I replied, "Are you kidding me??? You want to take a picture of something???? For memory's sake???" Got to understand Coach this is from a 16 year old boy who has NEVER shown the slightest bit of sentimentality or nostalgia for anything. Still has not even noticed girls yet. I never even knew he was aware of the picture taking capability of his Smartphone???? He fell hard for The Farm and it was great to witness. Honestly.

Great camp with a healthy combination of learning baseball skills, skills assessment, competition, exposure, and just good old fun. Son enjoyed playing for Coach Laverty.

Thanks for a terrific experience. If schedule permits we will be back next year for another "destination baseball vacation."

I just wanted to say thank you, to you and your staff on a job well done at last week's Stanford Camp. It was very well organized and moved along in a timely manner. My son and I feel very fortunate to have had the opportunity to attend. He had a great camp experience and enjoyed every minute of it, and so did I. I'm going to highly suggest it to my parents at the our next meeting, that this has to be a priority for them in their future recruiting endeavors. It was nice to hear your words of wisdom on education and hitting approach before the camp started because it's the first thing I tell my parents and players before every season. It was also good for my son to hear it from someone else other than myself, because as you know they've only been on this earth for 16 or 17 years and they know everything, and they remind you of that every day. Thank you once again for the great opportunity.

I know the survey is for the campers, but I wanted to let you know I thought it was a great experience. It is very well run! I can't imagine the amount of work to put that all together. Hats off to all of the staff & volunteers who work hard making it happen for the campers. I watched that grounds crew guy watering & pulling that heavy hose around the field several times a day, he never slowed down!!

I appreciate your willingness to help me out if I was going to need to switch from camp II to camp I. I sort of expected a generic email that it wasn't going to be possible, but you called me personally & spoke very kindly talking about options. I ended up not needing to switch, but you took the time to talk with me, knowing this is a huge camp and tons of kids to organize into teams etc. You do live by your fathers words, helping someone in need, however small that need may be. I'm usually not so good at remembering names, but at times in your life, someone crosses your path that makes an impression that even if you never see them again, you will remember their name and the mark they left. You are one of those people. You said your dad was 92, so I'm assuming he's still alive, give him a hug from me, and tell him I say, "Thank you, great job, your son Dean is awesome". You have a lot of 'words of wisdom' to pass onto these young men.

My son had a good time, he said he learned a lot from the pitching coach and that he was old school, funny, and a wealth of information.

So, thank you, for all the effort, work and time that goes into making the camp a great learning experience.

I wanted to sincerely thank you for giving me the experience of a lifetime at your All-Star camp. I learned so much from all of the coaches there and I developed as both a player and a person. The camp made me more a student of the game as well as raising my confidence and appreciation for the game of baseball.

Both of you said things that really stuck with me and made me think.

Coach Stotz, when you asked me about my chest plate and I said my mom made me wear it for safety reasons, you said, "You're mother can't replace you, that's why she makes you wear it." When you said that I thought of everything my parents do to get me the things that I want and need. I realized how important I am to them and how lucky I am to have them.

Coach Ungricht, I was talking to you about my arm soreness and a strike out that just took place and you told me, "Baseball is a game that chews you up and spits you out over and over again. But you keep playing because of all the great things that come after the failures." You summed up the game of baseball perfectly and your advice helped me get through some tough things that I was dealing with that day.

In the end, I took away some great knowledge from your camp and I really thank you for that. However, I think the most important part of attending your camp was about having fun. I had so much fun playing baseball. Even though I was dealing with pain in my arm I found a way to just have some fun.

For all you did for me, THANK YOU!
